

These tropical bouquets and flowers are coming to you directly from the Rainforest in Costa Rica. We hope their unique textures, colors and shapes will help increase sales in your department. Below please find some general care for your bouquets.

GENERAL TROPICAL FLOWER CARE

Flowers are cut farm fresh, professionally packaged for shipment and should arrive in excellent condition. The instructions below will help ensure you get the maximum flower life and enjoyment from your tropical bouquets.

1. It is important to unpack the flowers immediately. Do not refrigerate. Tropical flowers will do best at 55-60 degrees Fahrenheit.
2. To restore plant cells and extend vase life, place bouquets in 4 inches of water at room temperature immediately after cutting one-fourth to inch from each stem. Make sure this water has flower food in it.
3. Always make sure your flowers have plenty of water as tropical flowers typically need lots of water. Misting flowers daily will help to extend vase life and keep a fresh appearance. Change flower water and trim flower stems every few days.
4. Keep flowers out of direct sunlight and breezy areas.

These bouquets and tropical flowers are coming to you directly from the Rainforest in Costa Rica. We hope their unique textures, colors and shapes will help increase sales in your department. Below please find some general care for your bouquets.

GENERAL TROPICAL FLOWER CARE

Flowers are cut farm fresh, professionally packaged for shipment and should arrive in excellent condition. The instructions below will help ensure you get the maximum flower life and enjoyment from your tropical bouquets.

1. It is important to unpack the flowers immediately. Do not refrigerate. Tropical flowers will do best at 55-60 degrees Fahrenheit.
2. To restore plant cells and extend vase life, place bouquets in 4 inches of water at room temperature immediately after cutting one-fourth to inch from each stem. Make sure this water has flower food in it.
3. Always make sure your flowers have plenty of water as tropical flowers typically need lots of water. Misting flowers daily will help to extend vase life and keep a fresh appearance. Change flower water and trim flower stems every few days.
4. Keep flowers out of direct sunlight and breezy areas.

